That can be refuted. One of the many things we could say is "God said it so we should make it law".

please don't take that path. If god "said it", there must have been a good reason for him to say "it". for example Muslims don't drink alcohol. This is because it is intoxicating to the brain.

Pleas dont flame.

Edit: so yeah, carrier is probably right, you'd have to be obnoxious to assume your God is right
