Wad up!

God just reading all this stuff brings back good ole memories from those days. Not gunna lie those were some awesome times. Glad to see everyones still hanging around. So whats the whole deal with the servers and the fourms? I tried to check out the old url and didnt get anything. Hopped on irc for the first time in years, couldnt believe i remembered how to even register on that damn thing. I'll be on periodicly, my work schedule is all jumbled right now, keep switching my shifts. Someone want to link me to where i can install ren? All i have is my laptop so ill have to go out and get a mouse if im going to even attempt to play.
