A) Are you running the NR installer as admin?
B) Can you post your svrcfg_cnc.ini and your server.ini in your FDS directory? (remove any passwords/serials of course)

What appears to be happening is... your have a perfectly valid server.ini in your FDS dir... and RenegadeServer.exe exists so its accepted it as a valid FDS installation.. but then when it tries to import the configuration file the radar is set to something other than 0, 1 or 2 and it shits itself because something is TERRIBLY wrong   Since the FDS shouldnt even load like that. Admittedly NR should probably silently recover rather than shit itself.. but thats whats causing the problem The error catching module is not loading untill later on in the boot up which is why NR simply shits itself lol.
