Out of curiosity, why do people cheat in multiplayer games? More specifically, using cheats that are a lot more subtle and could be seen as just "skill" in some people's eyes. I can somewhat understand when you're bored and just go into a big game to do something ridiculous and kill everyone in an obvious cheating manner. But there's cheats out there that try to be as subtle as possible, so they don't get detected.

Why? Do you just want to win without being caught cheating? That kind of removes the idea of just doing it for shits and giggles. And it removes the fun of competitive playing, because you KNOW you'll be winning.

Discuss.

PS: I don't expect people to post "LOL YA I CHEAT IN REN", I mean in general on multiplayer games. I'm sure there's a few people who've cheated on other games in this manner.

PPS: Don't comment with "LOL CUZ THEY HAVE NO SKILL AND ARE SAD LITTLE MEN GG", that's just stupid. I'm legitimately curious.
