i was in arkansas earlier visiting my girlfriends family. and there is this old ass cemetary in the neighboring field. seeing how there is nothing more exciting in that god awful state, we decided to jump the fence and go check it out. the top wire is electric which i was aware of, but i decided to try it anyways... thinking i could avoid it. i had one leg over when the other grazed the wire right next to my nutsack... i dont think the fence is very high on voltage, but that was still very uncomfortable.

sorry for bad grammar, hard to bother on this phone.
