this is why american Canada and Australia doesn't not exist because no 1 really own it and these countries have no culture that rally stand out. when u go china, u can feel it right away this is chinese country and all ppl around you are Chinese because they speak Chinese and asia. NOW GOT IT?

You, sir, are an ignorant, miseducated hypocrite. Not only do you fail to grasp the concept of 'culture' but you also neglect to take responsibility for the life you live.

You shun the limitations of society such as country's borders but at the same time reap the benefits of such a society (you're obviously using a computer and the internet to type these messages). Unfortunately, life doesn't work that way. You can't just take all the good and disregard the bad that comes with it.

If you're going to live in modern human society and service yourself with the luxuries of today's living, then you have no right to complain about the drawbacks that such a society also has.
