I don't think you should ban skins. I personally don't use that sniper skin but I can't see where it would give you any kind of relevant advantage. I have a replacement pistol model, a reticle skin, and maybe a few other things. I don't wanna get kicked/banned from good servers and then have to go to their forums or whatever and bitch about it in order to get unbanned, then have to remove the skins which I happen to like so it doesn't happen again.

As it stands now cheaters are quickly identified and banned, and it doesn't affect me much. This however could. Sometimes the cure can be worse than the disease, I think you guys should be very careful of that.
