I read in Game Informer that BF3 will only run at 30 FPS on the xbox, and the MW3 people were all like "ours will run at 60 ha take that"... but then the BF3 people were like "we got 50+ people in match and tanks and destructible environments of course we are gonna run at 30".

I had done less than 30 FPS on Renegade for the longest time, I can handle a flat 30 easily if the game has that much and looks that awesome.
