AircraftkillerYeah, I'll admit it once you "modification teams" actually do something.

All of you are on a team only because you want recognition. Not because you want to help the game live, or anything else - you just want people to look at you as if you're worth something.

Go away.

and you want people to look at you as if you're a god

Go away. renealert isnt the only good mod out there.

IF All your going to do is rant about other mods then just dont come ot the MOD FORUM i've had enough of you.....
