Nod's almost guaranteed to lose Fjords if they spend the game sitting on the Airstrip with Stealth Tanks. They have so many advantages that it's silly to waste them on a single unit, which requires an almost perfect window of opportunity to do anything.

If Nod held the field with Light Tanks/Apaches and used the trees to their advantage, a few Artillery pieces could easily shell the GDI base with Technician support. With the amount of damage that Artillery does, Nod would force GDI into losing a building early in the match.
