liquidv2 wrote on Sun, 18 December 2011 22:04there was a time on walls_flying when a Nod player repeatedly sbh nuked using an afk GDI player as cover he would search out losabill and find whatever building he was standing in and put the beacon behind him; he killed the wf and the ref this way meanwhile i was out fending off the arties in the field with a med tank; i only found out about this later because he recorded it you see the hotwires run right past it several times and never find it

What a bastard.
