- People who can't take negative constructive criticism, advice, and honest opinions.
- People who think that saying anything less than completely positive comments (and for the most part, false) about other people's work (like models, skins, maps, etc.) ruins the community.
- People who start a flame with someone and than blame it on that person.
- People who can't admit when they're wrong, even though they've been proved wrong countless times spanning several pages. (You'll find at least one account of this in the politics forum.)
- People who resort to name calling, insulting, and the like when they lose in an argument.
- People who think that others cannot make comments on their work if they have never done something similar, like saying that if you aren't a mapper, than you can't make comments on his/her map, btw, they only do this when they get comments that aren't completely positive, Coincidence? (This is the same thing as saying, for example, that you cannot comment on a Governor unless you have been a Governor before.)

-Not having a broadband modem and connection.
-People who like Pepsi
-And when my damn Coca-Cola goes flat!!!
