yay I got on the list despite having fail aim XD.

pro-tip: DIE for your team. the winning team isn't the one with higher kd. I daresay by now i've perfected the art of dying and dragging all the enemies down with me XD.

sadly, I pretty much never see other players do this.. its just me alone. I even got aircraftkiller telling me that I'm the only one who "ruins" games (for the enemy team) like this lol.

As for my own list.. I got lists of people who are incredibly good at sniping (so much that they are probably cheating and somehow getting away with it ), but not really anyone I recognize as particularly good at the strategy part... although that's probably because they aim so good that they can just buy nubjet over and over and that's automatically the best strategy since nubjet conquers almost all. I suppose I feel reassured if these guys are on my team (cause then the other team won't have snipers alive lol).. but I doubt its for the same reason as this thread is intending.
