Just for the record, Wilo was flooding servers to make the players choose a different server to play on (as in, "Jelly's lagging and dropping players so I'm gonna go play on another server, say what's this St0rm place all about"). So, if he doesn't HAVE a server for them to go to, the incentive to flood server is less.

Before, he would gain e-penis points and players on his server.
Now, he gains only e-penis points.

Furthermore, just accepting his apology and promises "not to do it again" even though he's been a pimple on Renegade's ass for 10 years now, isn't working. He's been proven time and time again to be a sociopath and a liar. (Although I think that's really the same thing.)

It's better this way. There are plenty of good servers for this game, and hopefully now they'll even be more stable.
