It's kind of like him throwing that bit about Crimson's "fraud" into this. It doesn't make it true.

Yeah, that shit is funny. The reason there's no information about the stupid time I got sued is for two very important reasons.

1) He should have been suing my business (LLC), not me as a person. I was not personally a party to any contract.

2) My lawyer wrote the moron a letter stating like 15 reasons his case had no merit and he withdrew it from the courts.

Furthermore, the dude that sued me was just convicted for doing the shit he was trying to get me to do. Awaiting sentencing in the next couple of weeks. And yet somehow these stupid Renegade trolls give that dude credit... if they had only met this dude they'd know he's a complete crackpot. I should post his picture, then you'd know for sure.
