Animoskity wrote on Wed, 07 March 2012 22:23Hey guys I don't know anything about game engines and I can't do anything that I'm complaining about, but here's a half-assed idea of why I think something is wrong. Please accept my attempt at trolling and believe that it has to be trees causing the problem. It can't be anything else! All I can do is dick-ride someone else's overused joke. I'm funny, please pay attention to me!

As I posted somewhere else: I did some testing on my new system running a GTX 580, 16GB of RAM, etc, and there's something about the center of the level that causes the problem. It isn't the foliage that causes drops - I'll run 300 to 500 FPS looking anywhere but the center where the Ore Refinery and substation is, and that gives me about 90 frames. When I get my tools running again (and if I ever get any free time anymore), I'll look into removing the buildings and seeing if they're causing the issues. I'll try to boil down what's causing the slowdown since it seems to be more than just a simple "omg trees" or "omg waterfall" problem.

Sit tight for a while. It will take me some time to get this done, but I am attempting to spend some time during the week to finish up Noddingham so I can go back to Fjords. One of the things I'm planning to do is use Noddingham as a test bed to re-design some more gameplay issues in Fjords and bring it back to its C&C 1 roots as much as I can. I'm still finishing up the replacement buildings, so once that's done I'll be removing the Renegade buildings and putting in the C&C 1 buildings along with rebuilding Fjords from scratch... Hopefully that will avoid the frame rate problems.

For what it's worth, you really got that irritated with a level you don't have to play? Shit, when I load Hangnail Canyon, I always quit 9/10 times. I've played it since 2002... Why would I knowingly subject myself to something I hate? Likewise, why would you play my work since you seem to hate it so much? Are you a masochist or are you just retarded? Keep foamin', bro. Keep foamin'.
