

---

Subject: What's being done to stop cheats

Posted by Epyon on Thu, 11 Sep 2003 17:48:27 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Pretty Good Protection is a encryption software meant for personel privacy, not encoding games. However, as its name suggests, it is actually a very good program. Any of you that wish to keep files hidden from other people, this would be a very good choice. The givernment even threw a fit about its release bacause its very hard to crack, and they were upset that they could not get somthing they wanted

But, back to on topic.

In percentage wise, how much of renguard is finished?

---