c0vert7 sucks at Renegade; don't worry about it Starbuzz i've noticed that, no matter what a player does, they can be criticized by idiots for it winning by points = pointwhoring being successful with an arty = arty whoring being successful in a mammy = mammy whoring successfully defending = camping killing the harv = harv whoring successfully winning by ped = ped noob etc.

this is also the same c0vert7 that used r-g-h and lied about it; don't waste your time arguing with a past cheater why is DJ trying to tell ACK (sorry, i will forever associate those letters with Aircraftkiller) anything about anything? he's not on the same mental level, nor does he have a legitimate argument or a reason to butt in and yet he won't hesitate to accuse me of doing the same, even though i'm right and he's wrong there are stupid people in every game; Renegade has never been an exception and on the topic of volt auto rifles - why shouldn't they get a range increase? in order for them to do damage to infantry they are just about within pistol range in order for them to damage an enemy vehicle they have to be dangerously close while exposing themselves for prolonged periods of time if the driver of the vehicle isn't a complete, helpless idiot then the Mobius or Mendoza is in serious danger and yet they cost the same as a PIC, rav, havoc, or sakura figure that shit out; giving them a range bonus just makes sense, if you care about making them worth their cost maybe DJ doesn't give a fuck about them because he can't invisihug with them
