plenty of stock maps were stupidly unfair while the dumbass point bug was still in effect...

point bug fixed + infinite infantry ammo + deadzones fixed = fair between nod and gdi. (not on glacierfly but whatever) that's not the case in marathon and it's also true that plenty of people in public servers don't really know what they're doing (including ppl who've been playing longer than i have) but that doesn't make the maps themselves unfair
