When I sign in to advanced game listings it does not come up with the normal, such as how many players are online and all that, rather it comes up with "create a nick at xwis.com," and other things and then it asks for my location and no matter what I put, the advanced game listings is empty... Yes I have installed version 1.037, I have no idea how to fix this, my brother plays just fine and we just use different computers same internet and different accounts.. Can anyone helps??
