You can't really judge people's mod abilities based on their age. Some people that is the case, but not all.

Prokillr1, former Co-Owner of FnFall servers is FnFall's nephew. He was only 11 at the time (9 years ago) and the kid was a braniac that can script and code no problem. Also showed the maturity of a young adult.

Stewie, Evilelmo, andysh (xphaze), GeneralCamo, and many other names out there show a lot of maturity for their age. (whether it be now or in the past)

As for Matix/Animoski, most of the community is already aware who he is. Some things will never change honestly, but if it bothers you then don't join the network.

I do laugh at the "copying" hasn't changed at all.

Compare the websites. MPF was first.
