I respect Animoski and rencorner, but I can't believe that what little players left in renegade are drawn to a changed server like that. The fact the people are drawn to a server where you can use commands to buy tanks, weapons, and have rank systems to make your tank/you stronger as well as DNA pick ups is taking away what is left of original renegade.

I am not saying it has to be clean cut settings like n00bstories (other than points doubler) but it is seriously going to piss me off when renegade dies out more and I am stuck in a changed server like Rencorner or playing in Jelly (which I don't hate the server, I just hate marathon itself and having 50 people in a server is way to fucking much to enjoy a game).

I respect Jelly and I mod there, just hate marathon itself and to many people lol

It is just ashame when n00bstories has 0 players and my choices are limited.

Basically the only servers should be n00bstories, Jelly, and I guess TMX for 1 sniper server. Nothing else should exist in renegade at this point in time.
