Most people with the actual skill and knowledge to mod well would rather actually play the game than have to deal with retarded shit when they are trying to have fun. There are exceptions of course.

More often than not though, someone that wants to be a moderator nowadays wants the power trip that comes with it, rather than the ability to make the games better for all that it once held.

Quote for fucking truth

Why do you think DJ-EYE-GAY applied for mod at RenCorner?
