Mentioning the ER automatically makes you an idiot. If you're curious as to the reason why, it's because you're an idiot.

Quote:Never mind that '60 Minutes' interviewer Scott Pelly was quick to accurately point out that ER care is the most expensive form of treatment that one can access. What is far more interesting is that the remark so clearly puts Governor Romney at odds with the other candidate seeking the presidency—and I don't mean Barack Obama.
