If you can talk to me (on MSN, AIM, ICQ, Yahoo or in #tt in IRC) I can help you figure out why things aren't working properly.

That error comes from TT/4.0, not WINE. -- possibly not, as I fixed it by giving net_cap_raw permissions to all of the wine executables. I found a mailing list post stating the the wiki is misleading, as /usr/bin/wineserver also needs net_cap_raw permissions because it is doing the actual network/socket work.

Now the ICMP packets are now being sent, but the AGL is still blank.

I will (greatly appreciatively) take up your offer on #tt, but it will have to wait ~30 mins so I can have lunch Thanks Jonwil!
