

---

Subject: Halo

Posted by Bearxor on Thu, 18 Sep 2003 15:20:09 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The guys suit is all fuxored because that is multiplayer and most likely those were the colors the player chose to be his suit. I haven't fired up the MP part of Halo yet, so I'm not sure, but it makes a whole lot of sense.

My graphics in game do look better that Matt's, but I wouldn't say 100x better. The graphics are real impressive pre-UT2k3, which is when the game was released on XBOX. My graphics are better probably because I have 9500 Pro and a 2.4c overclocked to 3ghz with the AGP running at 83mhz so I can have AA and AF turned up and still be playable.

Those pictures look like it just does suffer from poor AF, and it looks like he might be using the newest leaked nVidia drivers (51 dets), which darkens the screen up a bit to hid nVidia's 'optimizations'. :twisted:

---