I will set that remark aside because I see your sig says fuck everything.

I'm talking to my friend and he says the disk exploded because the disk drive was too good for this disk.... WTF!!! That little turd is always trying to make me feel inferior with his better stuff when

EA is slacking off like most other huge companies, like all small biasness they have to make better products then the others to get big, once there big they start slacking off cuz every one trusts there products. Thus a shitty CD from a shitty company.
