It works as a normal map, yes.

What you simply do is spawn in a map. You then go to the arcade machines, poke them, and you spawn as a spaceship when you decide to start. You will then play until all of you die and lose your lives. Then the process can repeat.

I think it was decided against putting it in the main San Casina map. But it is currently working as a separate map entirely. It is also utilizing new things in ECW that aren't possible/not recommended in Renegade.
