EDIT: Seeing as this thread is pretty popular, I'll give some extra explanation.

I made that topic immediately after I got a popup telling im banned for cheating at the end of the game after playing a DM map on their server. Never once did they ever mention they suspected me of cheating, but I did know that every time I played they were making remote SS of me. I assumed this was to check if I had any illegal skins, but it started to get excessive after 10-11 of them were made within about 20 minutes on an Islands game. I noticed that my ping was going up and I suspected someone making remote screenshots of me, so I browsed to the public web page where they kept the remote SS they make of players (I told zunnie a while ago that this webpage was public but he said he didn't mind.)

So I'm playing the DM map where I got banned on at the end. I'm playing pretty mediocre and I don't even notice anyone accusing me of cheating. I wasn't checking chat though as the server was pretty filled with players on this small action filled map (it was a DM map based on the tutorial level). Usually on Jelly I get PMs telling me to stop cheating and other nastiness, plus teamhampering sometimes too.

As you can read from the linked thread they explicitly state they have no proof of me cheating. Nor did they ever ask me to record myself playing on their server. The fact they immediately close the ban thread is a passive admission they don't have any ground to stand on. After I made this renforums thread (the one you're reading now) with my trademark politeness it immediately gets trolled by MPF members with "lol umad" style responses (more, more, and even more). My pleas to prove my innocence by recording myself or any other way to resolve this get completely ignored.

And I'm a well-known and very active renegade player and community member who not only has been:

1. actively beta testing scripts 4.0 since May 2011,
2. I've personally brought about about 50 cheaters to justice or helped therein in the Jelly community.
3. I've also published the most server plugins in the community. Such as one which makes refills cost money, which is a plugin that MPF themselves run.

I was also running Scripts 4.0/TT Patch which has anti-cheat integrated, I've been running it non-stop for 2 years now (since when I was added as private beta tester for the software).

EDIT2: Here's some videos of me playing:

EDIT3:

One of their admins, MDK@ENGLAND (who apparently is banned at this forums), wrote a few comments on a few of my YouTube videos. He later removed them.

In the last comment he states they made Fraps recordings of me playing, yet they didn't show any of the recordings to me and they don't want to share them either.
