mods have been banning people left and right for stupid reasons. it glitched their server so everyone is banned for those reasons that one person got banned for. if this were a professional server run by a company they wouldnt be banning people over such stupid crap as

"stealing" a teammates vehicle

No, you were kicked for 24 hours for stealing teammates vehicles on at least four occasions that I saw, despite being warned via a private message to stop doing that. You then evaded the 24 hour kick several times and started impersonating the development team, which ultimately led to the ban. If you're looking for someone to blame, I'd suggest looking in a mirror.
