Thank you. You guys can "point score" some other way, lets not involve a minor.

I really hope RC survives which I think it honestly will under shaitan & Trojan, they've both put so much time & money into keeping everything going and keeping things fair, which is the main reason why you guys have my support.

shaitan literally acted as the beating heart of the community, always resolving every little issue because he cares so much, it's a shame that it's come to this, but clearly you guys had no choice.

Good luck with keeping it alive, we really don't want to see another server die.
