Liquid you have summed it up well.

I've stayed quiet throughout this as no conversation has resulted in anything positive with Ani. A lot of words with no progress.

Ani gets credit for the early days for sure. Him, shai, shadow, and a few others. But this comes down to what we all deal with in real life, it's not what you have done, it's what are you doing now or lately.

Ani you disconnected in January playing LOL. You took Ren players and you sealed yourself in a ts channel. You became very mean and abusive chasing even new players away. Approximately 3 months later you are n00bing us as pc gamers and said you are an xbox player now, stepping down. Some change of power happened, you posted so on our forums. What really happened to me doesn't come into play. Volcom (with some help from a few of us) paid the bills for the last 4 months at least.

Bottom line the community would have shut down in Feb 2013. Box gone, files gone, everything down. IRC would have been the only thing running and that would have only been how long Cronus would have run it for free.

Your return was more private pm's threatening removal of someone who was actually carrying the community and with little to no issues / drama. Sure the Ren server was suffering as like you Volcom introduced a new game, killing floor, and took the remaining Ren players. But we actually were getting a long better than ever having fun. Then your private pm threats continued until Volcom felt he needed to do something.

If the Ani that was here at the start of RC was here today, I would say yeah Ani will keep RC going for a long time. But today's Ani, in 90 days m8 you will be on to something else and Cronus will be left alone. No hard feelings, no name calling, these are just the facts as I see them. Your actions have always spoken louder than your words.

In the end you two are apart and trust is gone. In the end it was you who delivered on the threats and have the players shut out of the assets of the one community. (Causing some to quit the game completely.)

Sad is the word Manuel.
