I tested this map out earlier and i thought it was very well done. The eye candy is plenty full, and the scenery is ample. I found that having the defences in the bases where they are, is very well planned. If you stand on either side of the rock cave entrance, you can hit the Wf, or the hand of nod.

Everything seemed equal for each team, and i found it very pleasing to see how many new guys were in the extras menu.

Great job on this map.

I also wanted to try the Battle Arena map, but the download wont work, if you can re post that map, it would be great. I like the detail in it with the infantry training area.
