

---

Subject: Re: Fluoride studies

Posted by Jerad2142 on Sat, 08 Jun 2013 05:35:54 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Thank god Fluoride is the ONLY thing those kids in those studies could have done differently from one another otherwise I'd say the control for the study was bad.

Luckily for us life is simple and everyone is the same.

On a more serious note, instead of stressing over things that may be, I'd only worry about things that are, because stress in itself is going to cause you far more issues than a little fluoride in your water.

Quote:

Many health problems are caused or exacerbated by stress, including:

I was going to grab a study for that, but apparently its just fact or something.

Aircraftkiller wrote on Fri, 07 June 2013 18:26 I'm against fluoridated water because I don't know what I'm talking about.

They should run the IQ test on that guy, but then it'd look like fluoride is good for you.

---