Make a special forum group that allows infinite editing for people that didn't abuse it
Or at the very least make sure some active mods are assigned to each forum. Maybe there is a need for additional mods?
Still prefer being able to infinitely edit them myself though. No need to bother any mods and it's up-to-date as fast as possible

And I think allowing infinite editing on your post if it's the last in the topic shouldn't be a problem.
