lol I've made it clear that I pretty much post to troll these forums, I've been doing it since 2001

I honestly believed RenX was going to really S the D when it came out. It's obviously not finished, but what's there is at least somewhat interesting and I'm enjoying myself when I take breaks from Star Trek Online. I also see a good base to work from should I decide to get back into modding, so I can upgrade my old TD project and put it up to UDK standards
