I'm asking the community what they would like to see, I'm obviously not going to make a game for just myself, so choosing colors for only myself would be ignorant.

I'm not delusional, this is just a way for me to waste time, who cares how long it's been? What the hell is wrong with you people?

That post is four years old, so if anyone is an idiot it would be you for quoting something that isn't even relevant anymore and acting like it can still be viable in an argument.
