

---

Subject: PC Help!!!

Posted by General Havoc on Tue, 23 Sep 2003 13:45:44 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Normally happens when some sort of proxy has been enabled. This could be child protection software, ad blockers, 3rd party networking tools etc. I have fixed a few computers that had this problem, they couldn't get onto certain webpages as there was a proxy configured. Check out your internet settings.

---