HMM i would suspect a army surplus store for the bullet thats pretty cool i have bullets from the civil war and i got to get in an apache and point the gun and shit lol we got a army show thing where they brought tanks, jets, helectopters, humvees, and MRLS and i you could get in them. They also had a hudge thing of guns you could pick up and shit and they had one that is the best sniper rifle the army has right now and it looks EXACTLY like a ramjet. I think it was still not a widespread wepon because i know for a fact that the most used sniper rifle in the army and the second best sniper rifle in the army is the exact same gun as the AWP from CS its just called somethn differnt.
