Yaaa, that the only bad thing about my site, and my parents won't let me pay for hosting, so I am using one of my old coms as the webhost, We have DSL, Good at download, bad at upload I should see what internet service is provided in my area, last I checked DSL was still the best in my area I heard my school is getting Lan T1, is it better than DSL at uploading? And if so, how much better?
