CrimsonI took a couple lines out of my sig... the Renegade stats image really made it longer.

There's a new version of phpBB coming out in a couple weeks or months that includes hundreds of new features, including the option to not view other people's signatures. I'm like, reluctant to install it because I did a lot of custom modifications to the base code of phpBB to make it look like our old UBB boards, but we'll figure that out once it's released.

Maybe we could start all over?
