Well, I only have a little bit of animosity with two people on that server. This happened last MMN. We were playing Flight Deck and I mined the area around the base with Proximity c4. Well one of the "half mods" Kytten came by our base. (Here is the exact conversation.)

"They have mines." Kytten.

"Well Duh, we may have base level intelligence but we are not that stupid." Me.

"Speak fer yerself." Pp147.

"Shut the fuck up." Kytten.

"Wow some people can really adapt to a sarcastic statement." Me.

"No I was surprised that to find out you had base level intelligence and then I told you to shut the fuck up." Kytten.

"I'm surprised to find out that you don't understand the sarcastic point to the English language." Me.

"You just need to understand that you have to shut the fuck up." Kytten.

"You just need to realize that there is something called FREEDOM OF SPEECH." Me.

"You need to understand that the internet isn't a democracy." Pp147.

"No, it's pretty much a democracy not a despotism unless the host or people with their powers is on." Me.

"He doesn't think he has to listen to what we say." Kytten.

Someone on IRC said something at this time.

I love how people demand respect on servers that are not theirs. But when they are on their own servers and someone demands that kind of respect they treat them like shit. This is why I try to only play MMN when neither of them are on. They have issues with people that don't put up with their asinine shit.

EDIT: I'm not banned but if they probably see this I will be.
