

---

Subject: way way way way way of forum topic but can.....

Posted by Blazer on Tue, 11 Mar 2003 15:12:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I'm way rusty on this stuff but I think a Particular solution is basically just something that makes the equation true, like  $y=4x$ . It applies to only the particular conditions you set. A General solution is the set of all the particular solutions, and usually specifies a constant value (it's not applying any one particular solution).

---