im going to say waht i think about poinwhoring, until 3 days ago i did not know what it was, now i think its a moronic word, put it this way, if it takes 2 techs/hotties to repair a building it wil slow the enimie, second if u are on the losing team u have 2 ways to win, go on the offensive, or place a beacon, point whoring is one way to mess up the enimie, i often take out the refinery in mesa all by myself when im GDI, have u ever entered a game a see you team down 2000 points and u walk in and there is no planed defense??? cause frankly if u dont go commando, you have no hope to live, but yes, i do go back and defend the base, hell, in mesa ive always say "team defend the rear, mass stealth tanks are comming!", what happpens, i pick up a meduim and no one helps me cause they want to attack a powerplant!

to sum my words up, pointwhoreing is good, but go back to defend when u even see 1 unit come!
