um the m16 was put into service in 1964. But was ready for service in 1955.

Red Alert only takes place a few eyars before this.

There is no m16 variant with auto and 3 round burst. Its a total waste of ammo. Either single and auto or single and 3 round burst. With this gun and the game id go with auto and single.

and they didnt widely issue the 30 round magazine. The xm117 and carbine versions of the m16 used by special ops had 30 round magazines. They just never gave them to anyone using the m16a1.

Well it makes it kind of stupid.

but the model does look good. skin Looks a little too dirty and scuffed but good.
