Titan1x77well this brings up the queston...

What was I kicked for?

I can see cheaters saying "Oh i had a stealth skin,I didnt realize that wasnt allowed,May I please be unbanned?"...while they were actually banned for BH cheats but making that there excuse.

So will the server host know exactly which file they were banned for?

No, the Server does not know the information, just the command that it needs to kick/ban the user.

The client has all the nescessary information to inform the user. Since it does the actual checking.

Running skins will not get you banned. If a Server is set to pure, it will simple not allow you to play in it.
