I know these are really not friendly, but it's still worth a laugh...

Bloke buys this complete radio / cassette deck for his car, Its a doozie! The salesman told him all he has to do is "speak" and the system will play the music.

He gets into his car, starts it up, gets going down the road.. He turns on his Radio..... He thought he may as well try it out... "JAZZ" he calls out...Lo & behold James Morrison starts playing...

Further along the road he calls out "POP"... and Kylie Minogue starts playing. Fantastic he thinks to himself...Wot about "HEAVY METAL" he calls out & AC-DC starts playing...

5 km's down the road & 3 kids jump out in front of him & he swerves hard to miss them . He does miss them..."FUC..NG KIDS" he screams out...
