well, no surprises in that list then! Guess Ill stick to what I know then.....

U may be amazed (and in fact, totally not bothered either) to discover that I also think some of ACKs maps are good, others not so good. Crimson you really should look at some other maps.

I think personally its a misconception that WW maps were any good in the first place. Only 2 of the original levels were any good. Glacier gets very very close to being excellent, but the weakness to being on the Nod team just robs it of those extra points!

Hell, you could even have a DeathMatch nite (If thats considered er 'proper' Renegade :rolleyes:). If you did I might even make it over there to kick ur butts!
