Another thing, I guess you wonder why I think people cheat so much. I play in a lot of servers. I read a lot of reports from various people about who cheats and who doesn't. I'm paranoid about cheats because I hate how they ruin the game in every aspect.

I'm not kick happy, I just hate it when people cheat, and I keep a constant look out for them wherever I go. Sometimes I go on the sense that I should kick someone killing people suspiciously. Sometimes I don't, and won't kick someone. It's not an easy thing to differentiate between cheats and standard players who just want to enjoy the game.

I make mistakes when I kick, don't recall ever claiming to be perfect about it... If someone was banned in error, then I'll remove it, like I did for tan's ban. After he came back and talked to me about it, I removed it.
