InfinintMe and some friends were thinking of making a documentary on every thing ACK has done.

One theory that i think is most probable is that ACK did not make Glacier Flying. Haven?t you noticed that all the maps ACKs ever made have never matched up to how good Glacier was. I think that Westwood used ACK to help gain popularity for Renegade. If people saw that a fan's map got into renegade as an official map they might try to make maps of their own and try to get theirs in as well, which has never happened. Also you see that Westwood is letting ACK finish allot of their maps that they did not finish. This leads me to believe that ACK really inset as big as he thinks he is.

EDIT: he even seems a little nervous in his posts.

You can't even spell "infinite" for your own nickname!! How the fuck can I believe that you've somehow pieced together the Great Conspiracy of Westwood Studios and figured out that I'm unable to create anything in 3DS because of what you say??

As if you descended from the heavens above and were granted with the ability to see a conspiracy theory in everything, which creates the Grand Unification Equation for the universe! Congratulations, you figured out how matter, anti-matter, particles of light and the universe itself are all tied in together! You discovered the single-most important thing in the history of mankind, paving the way for the creation of warp drive and the ability to manipulate matter in ways thought inconceivable!

CONGRATULATIONS INFININT, YOU'RE A GOD DAMNED GENIUS! YOU PUT STEPHEN HAWKING INTO PRE-SCHOOL!
